Available ports on a new ultra-slim notebook or computer are often in short supply and mostly the thin devices have only one USB-C port. Resolve this frustration and expand your connection capacity with the Nedis 9-in-1 USB-C docking. The hub is the central interface to various devices including the printer, monitor, Internet, card reader, mouse and keyboard. This allows you to use all your existing devices at the office or at home while benefitting from top data speed transfers of USB-C. The lightweight and compact design also makes it ideal for taking on business trips.

Features
