This Nedis conference speaker is far more than a speaker phone for business conference calls or joint video meetings if you're out in the field.

It delivers an excellent voice sound reproduction, thanks to high-fidelity audio, tuned for voice communication. Additionally, you won't be bothered by echoes, so everyone is clearly understandable and you don't have to constantly repeat yourself.

The conference speaker works super easy and without any set up: you only need an available USB port.

Bringing this compact speaker with integrated cable from one meeting to the next is also super easy since it comes with a pouch. It's the perfect portable solution for professional audio support of telcons and video conferencing.
