This small but powerful Nedis heat detector increases home safety. It can be mounted in a room where smoke alarms are not suited, such as a kitchen.

The alarm sounds as soon as excess heat is detected ( $\geq 54$  °C). The loud siren exceeds 85 dB to ensure that it is heard, even by those sleeping upstairs in the night.

The detector is equipped with a 10-year lithium battery and a test button for periodic testing purposes.
