With this Ultra HD HDMI™ + USB-C™ switch, you will get rid of annoying plugging and unplugging of the cables. At the back of the switch are two HDMI inputs which allow you to various devices such as receivers, Blu-ray players or game consoles to the switch. On the front side you have a USB-C port to connect a laptop, MacBook or smartphone via this port. You can easily switch all devices via the supplied remote control but also manual switching is possible. Switched on devices are automatically detected to allow you to automatically see the image of the switched on device on the screen.
