The Nedis Sport Massage Gun is ideal for warming up the muscles before your workout, or to reduce pain and tension in your body afterwards. The massage gun stimulates blood circulation and helps to speed up muscle recovery. The device is also ideal for general relaxation and stress reduction in body and mind. The special, triangular handle allows you to easily reach hard-to-reach places, like your back and shoulders.

The massage gun has a powerful brushless motor with a high torque and six different speeds, making the massage gun ideal for both sensitive and less sensitive areas on the body. It comes with 4 interchangeable massage head attachments with which you can massage the different body parts and muscle groups.
