The Bluetooth adapter is a compact and stylish music receiver. You simply plug in the music receiver via your AUX connection so that you can play music from a mobile phone or tablet with your Bluetooth connection. For example, plug the adapter into a sound system or headphones to stream music from your phone.

In the car, the device can not only be used to play music, it can also answer incoming telephone calls. There is a handy button on the front of the device with which a call can be rejected or accepted.

Not only is the device easy to connect, the sound is also transferred to the audio equipment without affecting the quality.
