The heat detector increases home safety. It can be mounted in a room where smoke alarms are not applicable, such as a kitchen. An alarm immediately goes off if it detects heat ($\geq 54^{\circ}\text{C}$). Its siren exceeds 85 dB to ensure that it even wakes people up in the middle of the night. The detector is equipped with a low-battery alert and a test button for periodic testing purposes.

Features

- Heat detector sense temperature rise; perfect if ambient conditions don't allow smoke detectors
- 85dB siren
- Low-battery alert function
- Test button
